JOURNALISM

Frank Corrado

Maridon inaugurates with this volume the Maridon Senior Awards. We feel that the permanent recording of a tribute to five outstanding members of the senior class will be a tribute to all members of the class who strive for scholastic excellence and participate generously in the extra-curricular activities.

A faculty board chose five categories of extra-curricular activities as the basis for selecting the seniors to be honored. After studying the merits of several students qualified for each category, the judges selected the five seniors pictured here. Scholastically, these seniors are in the top ten per-cent of their class.

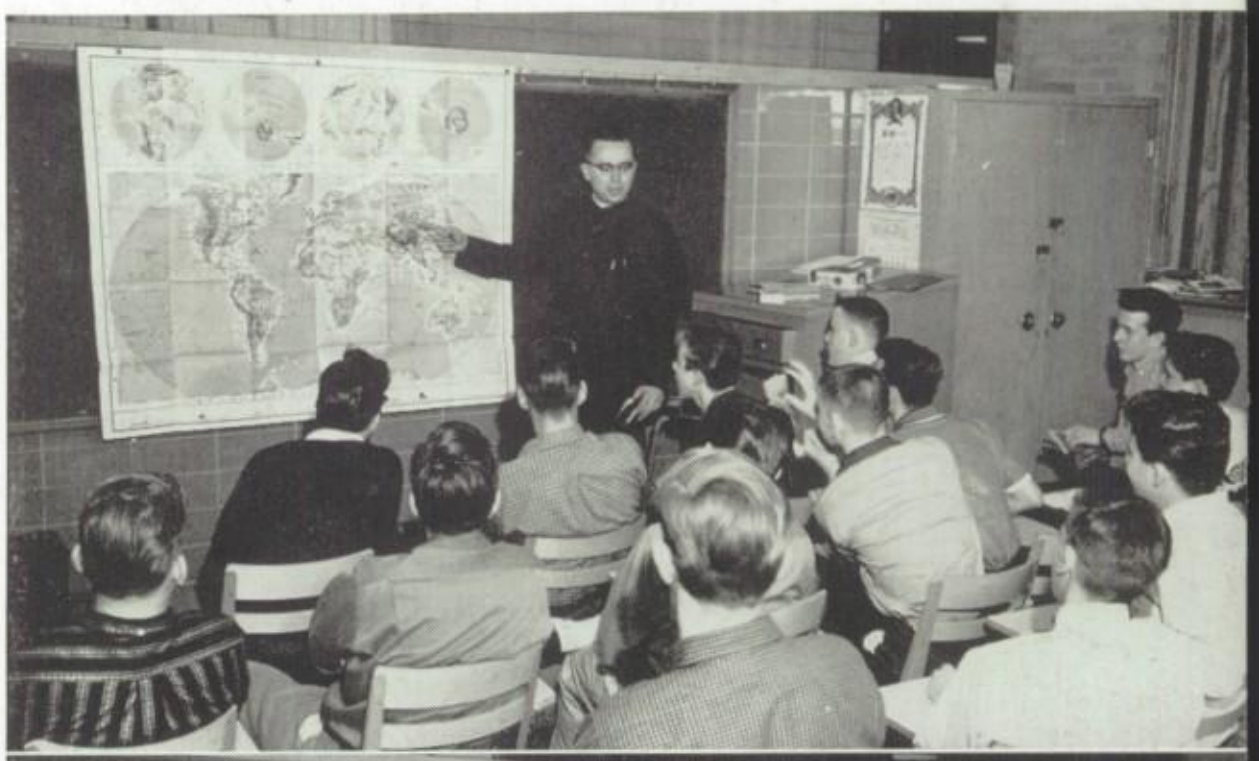
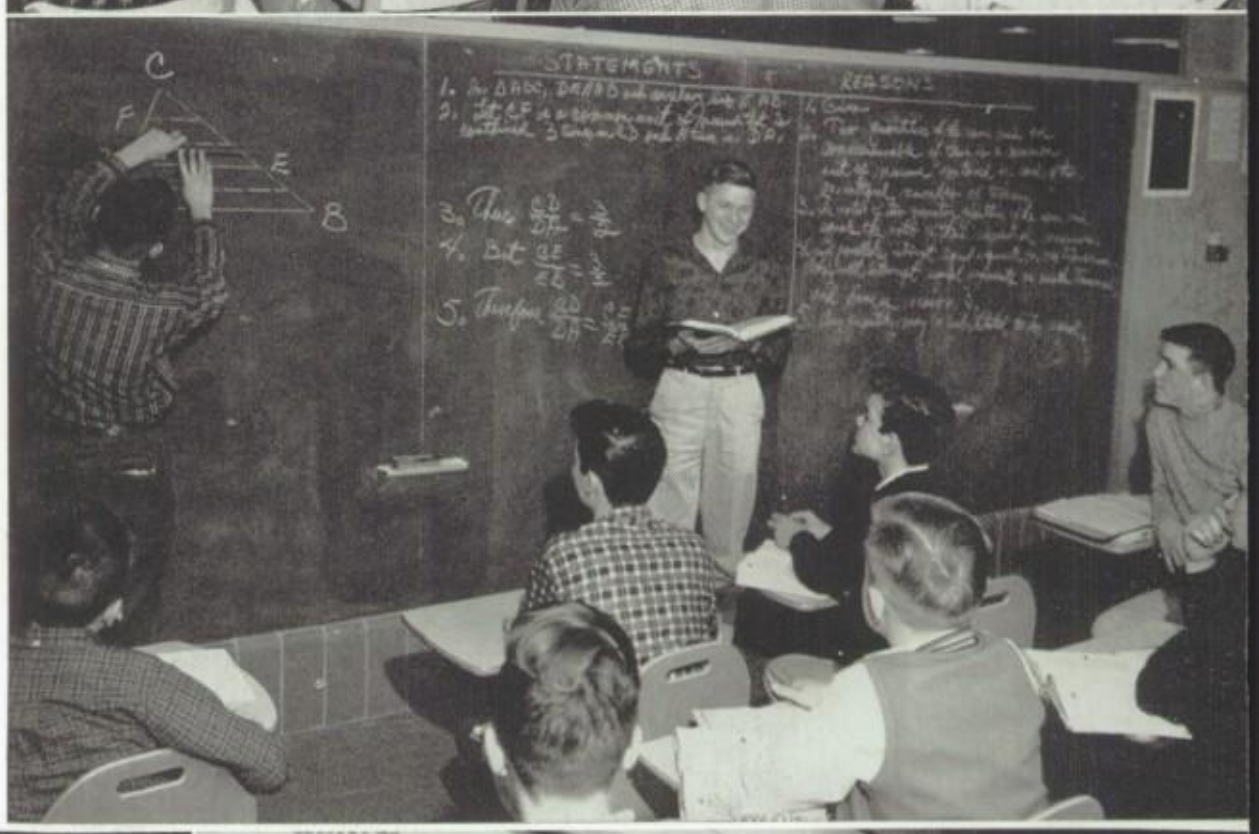
Classes—Steppingstones to Maturity

Required classes for underclassmen and the semi-elective plan for upperclassmen provide wide opportunities for the Don to arrange his future. No matter what field his talents and preferences lie in, there are courses to fit all of his academic leanings.



Fr. Stroot explains the particulars of world history to freshman class.



Self-teaching methods prove valuable to a sophomore geometry class.

Business class learns the value of good typing.

Manual training helps Dick Southon prepare his future.

Maturity Through Guidance

Under the leadership of Fr. Markos, with the assistance of Fr. Barrett, the counseling service has grown to be an essential part of the Don's curriculum. The juniors gain valuable assistance in planning their next year's course; seniors are guided in their choice of colleges or jobs. Another service of the counseling program is the administration to the student body of the various aptitude and achievement tests, so necessary in evaluating the necessary steps to maturity.

Fr. Markos and Fr. Barrett, look over counseling literature.

At Notre Dame, one honor stands above all others. To belong to the Father Moreau Chapter of the National Honor Society is to be placed foremost among Notre Dame Students. In early winter of this year, the charter members of this organization were enrolled. The program, which included a talk by Dr. Melvin P. Heller, marked a new era for the better men of Notre Dame.

Christian Maturity

The most important aspect of Catholic education is that of religion. At Notre Dame, religion is made a vital and living factor in the students life. Regular religious education in the classroom is supplemented by a complete religious program under the direction of Fr. Baker.

This Program includes religious services and devotions throughout the school year. Each day Mass and Holy Communion are made available to the students. On the first Friday of every month the entire student body participates in the Mass and Holy Communion in honor of the Sacred Heart. However, the most significant event of the year for each student is the retreat. Especially important is the senior retreat which this year was held at the Villa Redeemer. This final retreat for the seniors is a fitting climax to four years of spiritual development in high school.

A new practice introduced this year which has been very successful is the Senior Adoration Program. This giving of self to God for an hour has further enriched the school's religious life. All of these things have enabled the students to seek and to find spiritual maturity which is the basic requirement for a true Christian gentleman.

Retreat For Progress

Retreat Master Father James Trepanier, C.S.C., fortified the underclassmen by word and Benediction.

Rapt attention is paid to soul-searching.

Communications by Art and Radio

Art, design, and the related fields play a large part in the lives of a number of Dons. From the art display at the science fair to their field trips to various artistic locations, the members add a distinctive note to the atmosphere of the school.

Studying the various aspects of electronics and radio equipment, the Radio Club provides the wiring for many school functions. The radio demonstration at the annual science and tech fair, instills in its members the knowledge that its activities are needed by the public.

Journalistic advances at Notre Dame have made this year one of the finest in our publications history. The use of offset printing in the "Focus", the "Maridon" sales campaign, and the advent of the new school literary review "Vision" have highlighted the students day. While under the auspices of fine moderators, the publications have matured and gained the respect of the entire student body.

Maturity Through Sacrifice

Notre Dame's maturity manifests itself in many ways. One of these ways is in its student organizations. In only four years this service organization has helped the school in many ways. From selling popcorn to parking cars the club's members learn the real meaning of school service. It is this spirit of service and sacrifice that distinguishes the Cross and Anchor as an outstanding club, a club Notre Dame is well proud of.

Sounds of Music from

From Beethoven to Basie, from the concert stage to the Collegiate Jazz Festival at Notre Dame University the various sections of the band have won kudos and standing ovations from the thousands that have heard them.

The marching band's variety of half-time shows included the combined Notre Dame - Joliet Catholic bands for homecoming, and the snowy exhibition at the Notre Dame - Spaulding of Peoria game.

In its appearances at the Christmas Prelude, the Winter Concert, and the Spring Music Festival, the band has delved into music such as Beethoven's "Piano Concerto #2", "Victory at Sea", and numerous marches and popular pieces. Members of this band also prepared for district and then state contests, playing Bennett's "Saxophone Symphonette", and Desporte's "French Suite" for four clarinets.

A third section of the band, the Melodons, stepped into the spotlight by winning the Oak Lawn High School Stage Band Contest with three special arrangements – an A. Feeney arrangement of "Wonderful", "Li'l darlin' ", and "Flight of the Foo Birds". They then combined these numbers with several other professional-style arrangements and played the N.D.U. Jazz Festival. The resultant performance brought a five-minute standing ovation plus the Congratulations of many well-known music authorities.

The climax of the year for the band was the formation of the school chapter of Modern Music Masters, a national honor society for high school musicians. This drew together the bandsmen to end a year of work, work well-done and praiseworthy.

Vim and Vigor

The 1959-60 edition of the "singing Dons" proved to be the finest ever heard at the school. Under Rev. Thomas Waldron, the sixty members of the major chorus and the forty members of the minor chorus learn the basic aspects of group vocalizing. These Dons perfect the singing on school days and on numerous other practices.

The members of the major chorus attired in white tuxedos, spread the fame of Notre Dame through their performances at parish concerts, school functions, and more important, at its Christmas Prelude and its Spring Music Festival.

The minor chorus, an experiment of Father Waldron; was started with the idea of preparing Freshmen for participation in the major chorus during the ensuing high school years. This preparatory group has proved so successful that its members have sung several First Friday Masses and performed at various school functions.

The contest results from the chorus proved most welcome. In the district contest at North Chicago, the Notre Dame Octet, singing their version of "They Call the Wind Maria," took a superior rating. This achievement, and several months more of rehearsal, qualified the eight for the State Music Contest at Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois, where the group took a second superior rating.

In retrospect, the achievements of the chorus merit the applause granted them by the people who have heard them.

JUGGLERS . . .

During the past three years, Notre Dame's dramatic club, the Jugglers, has developed into one of the most well-known clubs at school.

Under the direction of Rev. Thomas Markos, the Jugglers have produced three successful Broadway musical comedies, "Seventeen", "Good News", and "The Pajama Game."

The purpose of the club is to develop the talents of our Notre Dame Dons, train the students in teamwork and organization, teach the technological end of play production, and instill the student with the desire of sacrifice with the end of doing good work for Notre Dame.

LANGUAGES

Dons of Notre Dame often find that membership in the German Club or the Spanish Club helps them in their studies. By understanding the customs and people of a particular country, they get a deeper insight into the language. The resultant end is that boys through tolerance of other cultures mature and become men.

Pep Club

"Spirited maturity" is the keyword of Notre Dame's Pep Club. Its members seek to instill in the student that enthusiasm which has always been a mark of the school and as a result has grown and matured with the student body. Whether as a cheerleader, as a member of the pep rally committee, or as a member of the sign painting committee, these Dons put forth their talents that tradition may grow with the years.

To the Don with speaking ability, the Debate Club offers a chance to improve his talents, and at the same time have educational contacts with people of similar talents and with similar ideas. To the aspiring lawyer or politician, there is no finer club at Notre Dame.

Each Notre Dame student realizes that an important part of his trek to maturity is his religious activities. The members of Y.C.S. use their present vocation, that of being a student, as a means of putting more Christian ideals into education.

Science is one of our more important and necessary career areas. Today three clubs are in existence, each channeling the ingenuity of the Don into useful and theoretical spheres. The Physics Club, Chemistry Club, and the newly formed Math Club, each contribute to the development of the personalities of their members and seek to further science from the Catholic viewpoint.

MOTHERS' AND FATHERS' CLUBS

For any school to function correctly, there must be a close relationship between the home and school. The students' parents accomplish this necessary union through the Mothers' and Fathers' Clubs. It is indeed wonderful when a school has the full backing of its student body; but at Notre Dame, vigorous backing is given just as well by the parents. It is the parents who have made Notre Dame an outstanding school. Through their spiritual and material backing they have shown their concern for their son's future.

Football for '59

"Last year we did our teaching under a banner of fine spirit. This Year . . ." Coach Yonto and hih stak arrived early for the fall athletic program. August 26th brought out some 180 candidates for football. By September 18th, the team was down to 60 of the best players in the school. These boys put forth their best in sacrifice, co-operation, loyalty, and spirit.

Following the unwanted tradition of the "Don" gridsters, the first game was lost to Immaculate Conception by one touchdown. Going into the final quarter, the score was tied at 7-7. During the fourth quarter, the Elmhurst "Knights" took a Notre Dame mistake and turned it into a touchdown.

A week later Rockford boys played host to our team. Moving onto foreign soil, the "Dons" had one factor against them—rain. After skidding and slidding over the field, the mud-coated "Dons" came home with a 14-0 victory.

A new rival on the Notre Dame schedule, Assumption High School, took the long ride from Davenport, Iowa to Niles to take an 18-0 defeat. With this victory in the "Don" blood, the team soon took the field against Fenton and held the "Bisons" to only 83 yards. The offensive team meanwhile drove 323 yards for the largest net gain in a single game in the past three years.

North Chicago was out for its annual victory. Notre Dame's line was lighter, but her experienced men proved to be too much for her northern neighbors. North Chicago's line gave only 133 yards, while the lighter "Don" line was forced to retreat some 314 yards. After a long, seesaw battle had subsided, the score was finally registered at 7-7.

In the next game, both teams gained the same amount of yardage. However, the Morgan Park "Cadets" were able to push the pigskin over for only two touchdowns. This one-sided contest ended in the "Don's" favor at 31-13. Marmion again proved to be tough competition. In the hard-fought Homecoming Game, she gained more yardage but lady-luck gave the "Dons" a 12-6 victory.

"The Notre Dame varsitv has never lost a game on its home field." Notre Dame football has come of age.

Keen interest shown in North Chicago game by coaches Yonto, Mariani, Burke, Cole, and Mgr. George Hart.

Mike Thuis stopped after good gain.

Phil Creden cuts the corner.

Basketball Bounceback — 1960

BASKETBALL, the wildest, maddest, most exciting high school sport—football fans to the contrary—truly took its highest bounce in Notre Dame's history during this past season.

Prophetic indeed were Coach Nie's words at the beginning of the esason when he told this reporter that this year's team would surprise a lot of people. The elements for a successful season, namely; outside shooting, good boardwork, heady leadership, desire and spirit, and talented bench strength were apparent and it was the job of Coach Nie to mold these factors into a well knit, smooth working team. How well this was accomplished can best be attested to by the finest record in Notre Dame's history.

The Dons started off with four spine tingling victories over Grant, Ela Vernon, Taft and St. Procopius. In each contest it was the team's ability to go all out every minute of the game that achieved these goals.

The Don Express was derailed by Maine West but the team once again got on the beam with wins in the next two games. Going into the Holiday Tournament with a 6-1 record, the host Notre Dame quintet had been sparked by the outside shooting of Bachmann and Hammarley, inside scoring and boardwork of Schramm, and all around backcourt play and leaderhsip of Goldberg. Reserves Wohelski, Roberts, and O'Connell came off the bench to fill in capably when needed.

In the first game of the tourney, the Dons drew a strong Sullivan squad and came off the floor with a resounding 80-67 victory. Immaculate Conception took the measure of our boys in the second contest by a narrow 62-58 margin. The team from Elmhurst went on to cop the tourney title.

With the new year the league play began in earnest and Notre Dame's next three opponetns were I.C., J.C., and St. Edwards of Elgin. Revenge for the tourney defeat was gained against I.C. with a one point victory. However, our success was short-lived as both J.C. and St. Eds took the Dons in camp with heart-breaking victories. Now the record in league play for Notre Dame stood at 3 wins and 2 losses. Outside the conference our team trounced Palatine but upon returning to conference play, the oDns dropped another close one to St. Eds.

At this stage of the season Notre Dame was to hit its season peak by winning its next five games over Marmion, St. Procopius, St. Thomas, North Chicago, and Lake Park. These victories were again sparked by the phenomenal shooting of Bachmann who hit for 29 and 30 points in two games. Schramm continued to take the paint off the the boards and Goldberg dazzled the opposition with his floorplay and pin-point passing. McMahon hit his stride and came through with clutch shooting. The season's high point total was hit against Lake Park with a 86-68 romp.

The stage was set and the drama of the conference title would unfold in the next two games. Against I. C. the contest see-sawed back and forth until a penalty nullified our game winning basket as the gun sounded. J. C. also proved tough opponest in our last conference game. The lead changed hands several times before the Dons won 57-56. Our conference record stood at 6 wins anda 4 defeats at which time we were in the runner-up spot in the standings. However, St. Procopius defeated Joliet Catholic in the last game thus creating a three way tie for the title. This brought Notre Dame its first championship trophy as the three top teams were named co-champs. The regular season play ended with a 84-59 rout over eFnton.

The state regional playoffs were the next order of activity and after defeating Elmwood Park in a lack-luster game, the Dons faced formidable Proviso East. Here was a team ranked 6th in the state, having lost only two games all season. Typical of the Don's spirited play and fight, this thrill packed game went to the final minute before Proviso East emerged the victor by a 71-62 score. In final analysis Proviso East's height proved too much of a handicap for Notre Dame.

John Schramm and Cabby McMahon particularly covered themselves with glory in this contest. The season's nal record stood at a very fine 17 wins and 7 defeats performance.

To summarize this season's play, the team can take pride in its many accomplishments individually and as a unit. The record was a team effort and one that has set the pattern for succeeding Notre Dame teams to follow. Individually, Schramm and Bachman made the all-conference teams selected by the local newspapers, Bachmann was voted most valuable player, McMahon was named the most improved hoopster, with Goldberg being elected honorary captain.

A hearty salute should be given to Coach Nie who did a terrific job in molding this team. His exhaustive knowledge of the game, astute leadership, and ability to get the most out of each ballplayer were prime movers in this successful season which was replete with thrills for all.

Climbing Cagers

This year Notre Dame was fortunate in having three relatively successful basketball teams. In addition to the much publicized varsity team's record, both the Sophomore and Freshman basketball teams brought home impressive records of their own. The Sophomores compiled a notable 13-7 record and came in third in the Suburban Catholic Conference. The Frosh showed eagerness and promise with their 9-9 record. Perhaps these two teams lacked the professional abilities of the varsity, but they certainly showed the same drive and spirit which will bring home many more victories in the years to come.

Aqua-Dons

"Splash—another victory" seems to be the entire story of this year's Aqua-Dons. Beating top ranked teams, such as Austin, the men have earned a reputation that will be difficult to better.

The excellent coaching of Fr. James Blaes, C.S.C. and Bro. Ronald Whelan, C.S.C. was the great force that put the team in top form for the tough competition thrown against it. Combined with the leadership of the Seniors, the coaching has given the school a group of men who have placed Notre Dame far above other schools of its size, and put it in the top division of the north suburban schools.

Coach Mariani and Bob Bachmann try to encourage Bob Calamari with a smile.

After a slow start the Notre Dame Baseball express has begun to roll to its second consecutive championship of the Suburban Catholic Conference. In the season's early stages, hitters could not find the range consistently and the pitchers were notg oing the distance. However, the pre-season prediction of a great record has begun to take shape and as this goes to the press, the varsity has an 8-4-1 record with three and two in the conference.

The highlights of the season have been a masterful no-hitter pitched by Calamari against Niles in the first game of the District Playoffs and the lusty hitting of Thillens, who was named Prep Player of the week.

Coach Mariani has the combination of hitting, pitching, and defense working like a well-oiled machine, and the trophy room should have one more tenant when the season is over.

Of more importance to future varsity track squads were the outstanding performances of the sophomore team, which went undefeated in its first six starts.

With the impressive talent that is coming up, 1961 could be the year when Notre Dame will have strong representation in the state track championship meet.

Hustling Harriers

Notre Dame's first venture in cross country competition was a successful one. The varsity harriers finished the season with a 6-4 record against some of the top cross country teams in the raea. The varsity squad was led by Joe Norfray who was chosen as the team's most valuable performer. He was ably supported by five seniors: Wichlein, Willard, Waddell, Gallagher, and Runtz and two outstanding juniors: Bresnahan and Johnston, the teams most improved runner.

Even more encouraging for the future Notre Dame teams was the fine showing that the Sophomore cross country squad made this season. This fledgling unit outdid their varsity brothers by turning in a 6-2 record. Outstanding squad members were the two O'Neill brothers, Snyder, Schrader, Murray, and Paluch. The team's two leading harriers were Barry Vail and John Petrucelli who turned in some excellent performances.

The formula for success which worked so well for Coach Nie during the past basketball season proved equally successful for the cross country squads. A blend of ability, spirit, desire, and expert direction under mento Nie wraps up the story of this season's performance.

Small Bore — Big Bang

New competition, new tournaments, new members, and numerous awards and trophies marked the successful season of the '59-'60 rifle team. After taking high honors in individual competition at Green Bay, Wisconsin, the team members went on to take first place in the Chicagoland Junior Rifle Championships and in the Lawndale Boy's Club Tournament, receiving trophies for their achievement.

The formation of the underclass squad has enabled the team to plan for future events. These young marksmen will to supply the talent for an award-winning team.

When the Notre Dame bowlers hit the alleys, there are no shouts of "Gutter Ball". These men always come up to the expectations put forth by the school, since with team leaders such as Jim Janas, Ken Kwiatkowski, and Mark Franklin they constantly trounce their toughest Catholic and public school contenders. And it looks as though this tradition will be carried on for several years with the results of the potential upperclassmen proving that talent is still in stock.

The Don traveling team again rolled its way to a second place finish. This year in the Catholic Inter-school Bowling League, the keglers made a strong bid for the first place trophy, but finished the season two points behind Weber. The Dons led the league for much of the season but near the end sluffed off enough to let Weber squeeze in front. In the junior division Notre Dame also ended the season second behind Weber. With a little improvement this team could very possibly take a first place in the league next year.

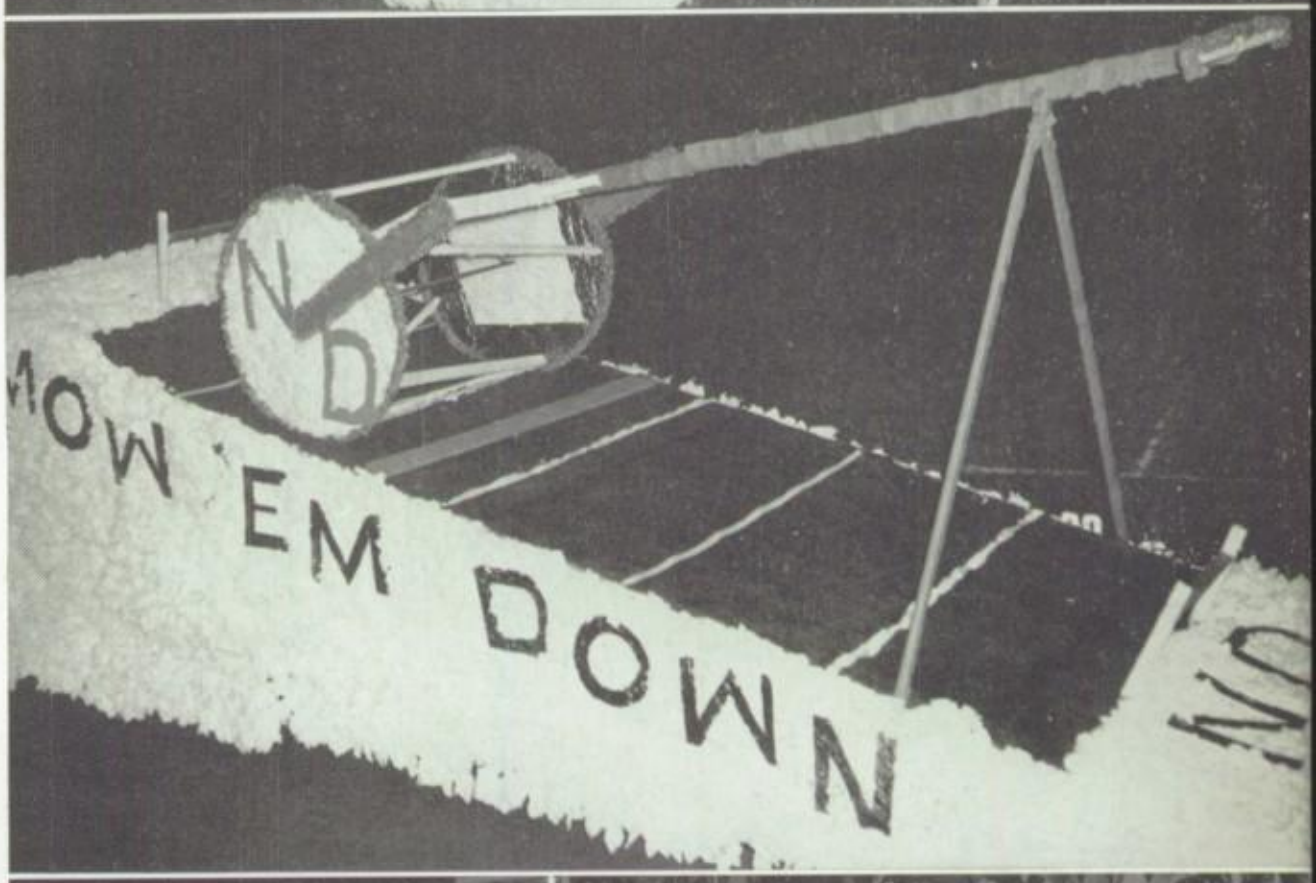
Homecoming Holiday

St. Patrick's Academy float entered in the Notre Dame Homecoming Parade.



"Mow 'em down" says Pep Club's float.

The Lettermens Club's float "Skunk 'em" took first place in the parade competition.

Diverse Dances

Notre Dame's own Arthur Murray Dance Party.

And then the dancing guests received their payola.

And then there is always "progressive" dancing for those who can dance everything else.

Life, knowledge, love . . . MATURITY
